Among the topics touched upon as demanding closer attention by the peo-ple were the Word of Wisdom and keepple were the word of Wisdom and keep-ing correct records of church matters in the wards. The paying of the portion due from the Stake on the Ploneer monument was also urged, and as the amount is but small it will, without doubt, soon be collected.

M. I. A. CONFERENCE.

Sunday evening a very large congregation attended the M. I. A. conference. It was addressed by Eider J. E. Hickman, Sister M. C. Davis, Elder J. E. Booth, Sister Susa Y. Gates and Apostle Smoot, who spoke in the order street giving much good counsel and Apostic Sincot, who spoke in the order named, giving much good counsel and advice. Sister Gates gave an interest-ing account of her late visit to the carly home of the Prophet Joseph in Palmyra, which is yet standing, and a description of the hill Cumorah and the surrounding country.

COUNTY TEACHERS' MEETING.

The Utah County Teachers' associa-The Utah County Teachers' association held a very interesting meeting Saturday, in the Parker school. There was a good attendance. County Superintendent Brown presided.

The first speaker was Professor J. E. Hickman, of the Brigham Young academy, who delivered an interesting lecture on natural philosophy, illustrating his remarks by experiments.

Professor George M. Marshall, of the University of Utah, addressed the afternoon session on "The Causes of the American Revolution."

The subject considered in the gram-mar department was mathematics. The discusion was led by Prof. G. N. Childs discusion was led by Froi, G. N. Clinds of Lehi, under the following topic headings: "The ends of mathematical instruction should be rapidity and accuracy; (2) training of the mind and developing thought power; and (3) every recitation should have a specific aim, and that aim should be learned in every recitation.

CHAIR MADE BY PRESIDENT BRIGHAM YOUNG.

Mrs. Suga Y. Gates returned Saturday from a trip to the East. She brought with her a relic, which will no doubt be handed down in the family for many generations. It is a chair made by her father, the late President made by her father, the late Fresident Brigham Young. Mrs. Gates found it at the home of Mr. Chapman—the old Smith homestead in Falmyra, where the Prophet Joseph Smith was living when he received his first revelation. Mrs. Chapman gave the chair to Mrs. Gates who writes this memory of her. Gates, who prizes this memer to of her father highly.

B. Y. COLLEGE NOTES.

Large Attendance-Classes Overflowing-Language Classes Popular. Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Oct. 13.—The number of students in the college is gradually increasing. Some of the teachers have already reported full sections so that it is very probable that before long there will necessarily be five sections in most of the first year courses. There are nine classes in foreign languages this year, three in German, ee in Latin, two in French, and on in Greek. There are also a large num-ber of classes in the department of English language and literature, which, in the near future may result in the division of the department into two.

A. L. Farrell, who has recently returned from Europe, N. T. Porter, former superintendent of Davis county schools, and President Nye of the California, vision, and president Nye of the California and P formia mission, were among the visitors at the coilege, and speakers in chapel exercises this week. At 10 o'clock Friday, the missionaries were favored with an address from President Nye, concerning his wide and valuable experiences, as an advecate of the Gapper of ences, as an advocate of the Gospel of Christ. Many of his listeners were af-terward expressing their willingness to go on missions when they have finished their courses in the college.

The principal and instructors of the Oneida Stake Academy, were here on Friday, visiting the college.
